

HEMME STATION PARK

This pedestrian friendly park located along the Iron Horse Trail in Alamo provides a perfect place to rest, play, hydrate and enjoy a picnic lunch. The play area has interpretive elements related to transportation and trains in recognition of the Union Pacific Railroad train station located here in the 1800s. The public can walk or bike into the park from the Iron Horse Trail, which is the former railroad corridor.

Facilities include:

- ◇ .07 acre community park
- ◇ Restrooms
- ◇ Drinking fountains
- ◇ Hydration station
- ◇ Bike racks
- ◇ Benches
- ◇ Shade structure
- ◇ Picnic facilities
- ◇ Playground structures

Location

1193 Danville Blvd., Alamo

Directions

 I-680 Freeway towards Alamo

 Take the Stone Valley Road West Exit

 LEFT on Danville Boulevard

 RIGHT on Hemme Avenue

*No parking available at the site.